Captain Thornton of a Times reporter who sat near. "Well, that's Jones." "Jones? Jones?" said the truth-per-And who is Jones?" "The bullion fiend," answered the Under-Sheriff, tersely.

Readers of the Times will remember reading last winter of how $19,000 in bullion had been stolen from the Magdalena mine, in Sonora, by an employee river valley must at once close down and who hauled it, and later, how Sheriff Gard captured the fellow, who afterward broke jail but was soon again taken, being captured in the Monkey saloon. As usually happens in these swindles, the tool thought a "divvy" the proper thing, and when he got a chance he eloped with the $19,000 aforesaid. He buried his treasure and skipped to Southern California. Now $19,000 in gold bars is an awkward thing to pack, and, furthermore Mr. Jones doesn't care about venturing on Mexican soil. He purposes, therefore, ness matters here. ### Increase of Freight Rates. (Phenix Gazette.)

The Southern Pacific railroad is enacting its old policy of exacting all the traffic will bear in relation to the produce of the Salt river valley. John Y. T. Smith informs us that during the past week he has received two notifications of advances in the rate of flour 20 to 60 per cent, as to localities. The result is that the Salt river valley is virtually shut out from the southern markets, four of Mr. Smith's old customers in Cochise county having in-formed him that under the circumstances it will be necessary for them to pur-chase flour in California. Such gross injustice as this, our valley and people will feel severely, but they have the philosophical consolation left that time will set all things even.
